

1902:-

Francis J. McCarty, at 13 years of age the inventor of the McCarty Wireless Telephone. This is the only photograph ever taken of the inventor at his transmitter. The telegraph key he is seen manipulating served merely as a switch to turn the current on and off.

The original apparatus is still available for photographing, and pictures will be submitted in due time.

